Lent : the Bridge Between 3
Two Great Events

Book Review 4

March Study Schedule 4

On February 22nd of this year, a former Episcopal Priest, Father Prentice Dean, was ordained as a Catholic Priest in the Nashville Diocese by Bishop David Choby. The ordination took place at the Cathedral of the Incarnation and was attended by Father Dean's wife, family and lifelong friends. Newly ordained Fr. Dean call his ordination to the Catholic priesthood "all graces."

Father Dean, a lifelong Episcopalian, was ordained in the Anglican Church in 2004, and served as the rector of St. Bede's Episcopal Church in Manchester, Tennessee. He resigned from that position in September, 2005 and, about a month later, he joined the Catholic Church. In May, 2006, Bishop Choby hired Father Dean as vice chancellor for the Diocese and facility manager for the Catholic Center in Nashville. In the fall of that year, his formal request to be ordained was approved by the Vatican, and then spent two years in study at Immaculate Conception Seminary at Seton Hall University.

Father Dean will continue his roles with the Nashville Diocese and will be celebrating some of the masses here at the Motherhouse of the Dominican Sisters. Father Dean will be our guest speaker at the March meeting of the Dominican Laity. Father Dean hopes to be able to help Catholics who have left the Church to find their way back.

Two Members Make their Final Profession

Ron Tasket and Leonard Nugent made their Final Profession for Life as Dominican Laity. They will now be seeking permission from the Mother Superior and the Bishop of the Nashville Diocese to form a local chapter in the Knoxville diocese. Ron had served as the Secretary and Newsletter Editor for our Chapter for the past three years. We will pray for success in their new apostolate. This was indeed a blessed day for each of the them. Also pictured: Sr. Mary Aquinas.

Dominican Saints and Blesseds

Because of Lent, the saints and blesseds of March have been transferred to other months of the year

April 5: St. Vincent Ferrer (1350–1419) [M] Spanish, priest, celebrated itinerant preacher, ascetic, miracle worker, Church appointed patron of builders, canonized 1455.

Suggested Dominican Reading for Lent & Selected Quotes

"The New Wine of Dominican Spirituality: A Drink Called Happiness" by Fr. Paul Murray, O.P.

"Two central realities in Dominic's life are clearly manifest: the wine of Christ's blood which he drank, and the wine of Christ's Word which he preached." -page 135

"The Dominican Tradition" by Thomas McGonigle & Phyllis. Zagano, O.P.

"One of the functions of the Church, and of a religious Order, is to try to be present in those places of deafness and incomprehension to offer a space where conversations can begin." - pages 121-122

"Praying With the Dominicans" by John Vidmar, O.P.

"My work is of little value in itself, so I try to enhance its worth by giving it the merit of obedience." -page 64

"The Meaning of Tradition" by Yves Congar, O.P.

"Tradition' connotes something more than mere conservativism; something deeper is involved: the continual presence of a spirit and a moral attitude, the continuity of an ethos." page 1

Lent: the Path Between Two Great Events

Situated between Christmas and Easter –times when we celebrate the coming of Christ and His Resurrection and Ascension, Lent stands as a reminder that the path between these two great events is the Way of the Cross.

I remember hearing a friend of mine who was single at the time, say that what she wanted to do was to wake up one morning and it be her wedding day: she wanted to bypass the search, the dating, the whole "single scene" and just get on to the "best part."

A lot of Christians are like that: they want to go from the joy and celebrations of Christmas —with all the parties, gifts, food and the many celebrations, directly to the splendor of Easter. What they want to avoid is everything in between: the call to service, ministry to the sick, the mountain top experiences of the Galilean hillside, and the eventual agony of the garden, the accounting before Pilot, the climb to Golgotha, and the willingness to die to self. Lent calls us to penance and sacrifice. It asks us to give up something that we value; the food or drink we enjoy, maybe attending a few more masses than normal, praying the Stations of the Cross, spending more time with Christ in Gethsemane, or giving up television so we can spend more time in reading, studying the scriptures, or praying. Christmas is about Joy! Easter is about Hope! Lent is one of the most beautiful seasons in the Life of the Church, but it makes demands of us!

Ash Wednesday marks the beginning of the Season of Lent. It is a season of penance, reflection, and fasting which prepares us for Christ's Resurrection on Easter Sunday, through which we attain redemption.

Ash Wednesday marks the beginning of the Season of Lent. It is a season of penance, reflection, and fasting which prepares us for Christ's Resurrection on Easter Sunday, through which we attain redemption.

Following the example of the Nin evites, who did penance in sackcloth and ashes, our foreheads are marked with ashes to humble our hearts and remind us that life passes away on Earth. We remember this when we are told:

"Remember, Man is dust, and unto dust you shall return."

The ashes are made from the blessed palms used in the Palm Sunday celebration of the previous year. The ashes are christened with Holy Water and are scented by exposure to incense.

"In the life of grace, the first initiative belongs to God. And that is why, both in our work and in our prayer, we soon come to realize that Christ is much more than the object of our regard. He is the Word alive within us, the friend in whom we live and move and have our being."

The New Wine of Dominican Spirituality

Christoph Schönborn Loving the Church Spiritual Exercises Provaled in the Presonce of Pope John Vaul II

Book Review

In February, 1996, Cardinal Schonborn presented a series of talks to the Vatican Household in the presence of Pope John Paul II. From the depths of his own heart, the Cardinal shared his love of the Church and revealed what he saw as the secret of her holiness; namely, "Christ teaches his disciples to see things, situations, people with His eyes: that is how Jesus forms His Church. Seeing with His eyes, willing with His will, understanding with His mind, feeling with His heart—from this, springs the Church"

I personally consider this to be one of the most beautifully written books which I have read, and would not hesitate to recommend it to anyone interested in a really good Lenten read. Truly an inspiring book.
